UPPER HOUSE WAS THE GOAL

Warm Contest in the Primaries for State Senator in Several Districts

The most interesting phase of Tuesday's primary election was the sharpness of the contests for senatorships in the various districts. The fight was, of course, entirely on the republican side and that for councilorship nominations was marked by considerable earnestness but larger leads for the winning candidates. Under the circumstances of being opposed, there could be no interest in the vote for gubernatorial or congressional nominees of either party, and compared with the republican vote of two years ago when there were contests for the higher positions, the vote this year was small. No primary was held in the town of Orange and in one or two of the very small places. In Auburn, there was no democratic ballot called for or cast.

There were a few scattering votes for the head of the tickets but Frank, in Worcester of Hollis, and Samuel D. Feltner of Rochester received practically all on the republican and democratic sides respectively.

Cyrus A. Sulloway of Manchester, and Frank D. Currier of Canaan, republican congressmen are renominated and their opponents are Eugene B. Reed, of Manchester, and Raymond R. Stevens of Landaff.

The following are the winners of the republican councilor nominations:

District No. 1—Elmer S. Thion, Laconia.
District No. 2—James Thompson, Haverhill.
District No. 3—William D. Swart, Nashua.
District No. 4—Frank J. Quimby, Concord.
District No. 5—Miles Gray, Colum-

OLD BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS RENOMINATED

Of the New Candidates Whitney of Derry Comes the Nearest to Being Nominated

With returns from four towns lacking, it is probable that the entire board of county officers has been renominated. The only contest of importance was over the three commissioners, for which there were six candidates. Norman H. Beane of Portsmouth was decisively renominated. George A. Carlisle of Exeter is renominated by a safe margin and it is probable that William A. Hodgdon of Portsmouth is renominated by a small plurality over Edwin N. Whitney of Derry.

COMES HARD FOR CHILDREN

Tots Cannot Reach the Water at the Drinking Fountain.

A stepping stone at the Memorial drinking fountain on Pleasant street would be a great relief to children who now have all kinds of trouble trying to reach the spray. Such a stone would not in any way interfere with grown people who use the fountain and would be a good thing all around.

An expert has estimated that 60 per cent of the Misses population average about 5 feet 3 inches in height. For this type of Miss, we have, after careful study, produced Suits that have short waisted lines, so as to give correct and more artistic proportion of lines to height. This produces a much more graceful appearance and does away with the expenses of alteration of large garments which at their best are awkward and clumsy.

Struck on Head by Engineer as He Is Leaving and Is Captured

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 5.—A lone hand held up a north bound express of the Louisville and Nashville railroad at 8.30 o'clock last night near Michoud, 12 miles from here, looted the mail car, robbed the passengers in five putmans and a club car and then just as he was about to leave the engine was struck on the head with a brass torch by engineer Haer and captured.

The injured robber was taken to Bay St. Louis and may die. The only, except for one mail bag thrown from the car was recovered and returned. The hand gave no name.

REPUBLICAN LEAD IN VERMONT CUT TO 6100

Complete Returns Give Republicans Control of House and Senate.

WHITE RIVER JUNCTION, Vt., Sept. 4.—A more accurate idea of the honors won yesterday by the Democrats and Progressives in the Vermont State election was obtained from the revised and almost complete returns from the 246 cities and towns. Allen M. Fletcher of Cavendish, Republican, 25,260.

Harlan B. Howe of St. Johnsbury, Democrat, 20,100.
Rev. Prator Metzger of Randolph, Progressive, 15,700.
Clement P. Smith of Morrisville, Prohibition, 1,516.
Fred W. Sutter of Barre, Socialist, 1,054.

The failure of the Republicans to obtain a majority of the vote by the people throws the selection of Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Treasurer, Secretary of State, Auditor and Attorney General into the Legislature, but the returns for Senators and Representatives from three-quarters of the cities and towns showed that the Republicans will have no difficulty in seating their candidates, although a majority vote on a joint ballot is required.

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES FOR MINOR OFFICES.

The Republican candidates for the minor offices are:
Lieutenant Governor, Frank H. Howe of Bennington.
Treasurer, Edward H. Beavitt of Montpelier.
Secretary of State, Guy W. Bailey of Essex Junction.
Auditor, Horace F. Graham of Craftsbury.
Attorney General, Rufus E. Brown of Burlington.

The Boston Red Sox are Well Fixed for Catchers in the World's Series Games

Boston, Sept. 5.—In the opinion of fans, Boston has the American league pennant nailed and glued, and the players are already dividing the world series money. The team is well fixed in all departments for the past season games, notably behind the bat.

Carrigan, the veteran catcher, who has been in most of the games this season, is ready to continue at his post indefinitely, and if he is forced to retire for any reason he has an understudy, Nunnemaker, who has shown by his work this year that he can be depended on at any time. With these two men on the job the Red Sox will have as good men as backstop as they will oppose in the world's championship series, no matter what National league team they must meet.

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous you must use Danderine, because nothing else accomplishes so much for the hair.

Just one application of Knowlton's Danderine will double the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots furnish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, don't hesitate, but get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now? A 25 cent bottle will truly amaze you.

GOVERNMENT REVENUES JUMPING.

Treasury figures for August indicate that the government revenues were jumping over the returns for the same period of last year.

Customs receipts for August and July, the first two months of the present fiscal year, ran $4,000,000 each above the figures for the same two months of 1911. Ordinary internal revenue taxes showed an increase of $3,000,000 more for the two-month period this year than for last year.

BEFORE SENATE COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt is expected to appear Oct. 2 or 3 before the special Senate committee investigating campaign contributions, to testify regarding the allegations of John D. Archbold and Senator Penrose, that the Standard Oil Company gave $100,000 to the Republican National Committee of 1904 with his approval.

Chairman Clapp has been informed unofficially that the colonel's speaking dates will bring him East about that time.

Upon his return today from Vermont, where he spoke for the Progressive ticket, chairman Clapp began organizing the committee's inquiry into the pre-convention campaigns of this year, provided by the Penrose resolution as it passed the Senate.

Letters were sent to Speaker Champ Clark and Representative Oscar W. Underwood, both candidates at the Baltimore convention; chairman McComb of the Democratic National Committee, who was the manager of Gov. Wilson's campaign; Representative William B. McKinley, chairman of the National Taft bureau; Senator Joseph H. Dixon, chairman of the Roosevelt executive committee, and others asking them to testify before the committee.

Through these men and others the committee expects to bring out the expenditures made for the various candidates before the Chicago and Baltimore conventions.

While the exact date of Col. Roosevelt's appearance will be determined by his arrangements for public speaking, the committee has set the tentative date of Oct. 2 or 3.

Senator Clapp was much pleased over the election returns from Vermont.

PROGRESSIVES
GET CONTROL OF CALIFORNIA

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 4.—Yesterday's primary election, which gave the Progressive Party its first opportunity in California to test its strength, assured the Roosevelt-Johnson organization control of the State convention that is to be composed of the legislative nominees.

This means that Republican electors pledged to Roosevelt will be named by the convention and will go on the official ballot as the Republican candidates. The Taft leaders, in order to get their electors on the ballot, will be forced to resort to petitions.

San Francisco and Los Angeles rolled up a heavy vote for the Progressive candidates. In San Francisco incomplete returns indicate that the Progressives won the Legislative seats, with the possible exception of two or three.

Much interest centers in the Congressional fight, in which the Progressives apparently carried a majority of the 11 districts. Early today the result appeared to be as follows:

First District—F. A. Hart, Progressive.

Second—F. M. Rutherford, Progressive.

Third—Charles F. Curry, Republican.

Fourth—Julius Kahn, Republican.

Fifth—John I. Nolan, Progressive.

Sixth—J. R. Knowland, Republican.

Seventh—James C. Needham, Republican.

Eighth—E. A. Hayes, Republican.

Ninth—C. W. Bell, Progressive.

Tenth—W. D. Stephens, Progressive.

Eleventh—S. C. Evans, Progressive.

Contests among the delegates resulted in substantial victories for the Wilson forces over the old Clark element, championed by ex-Congressman Theodore Bell.

The vote yesterday was light, particularly in the northern half of the State. In San Francisco, out of a total registration of 117,000, only 55,000 ballots were cast. Women especially were inactive, with the exception of the leaders, who enthusiastically helped in the voting booths. Light rains in the rural districts kept many farmers away from the polls.

In the local contests for superior judgeships Miss Lucy Good White, a Socialist newspaper writer, was nominated.

Grove L. Johnson, father of Gov. Johnson, appears to have been beaten for nomination to the Assembly by a Progressive candidate. Mr. Johnson had represented his district for many years and met defeat for the first time two years ago, when his son was making his successful campaign as an insurgent candidate for the Governorship.

WOMEN'S SUFFRAGE DEFEATED IN OHIO

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Sept. 4.—Ohio has taken front rank among progressive states of the Union. With the exception of woman suffrage and possibly one or two minor amendments, the entire work of the constitutional convention appeared today to have been ratified by the people in yesterday's special election. With only about 50 per cent. of the vote of the state polled, indications at 8 o'clock were that the initiative and referendum, home rule for cities, minimum wage, judicial reform, state-wide primaries, taxation reform, good roads and liquor license were adopted by pluralities ranging from 10,000 to 60,000. Woman suffrage was defeated by about 50,000.

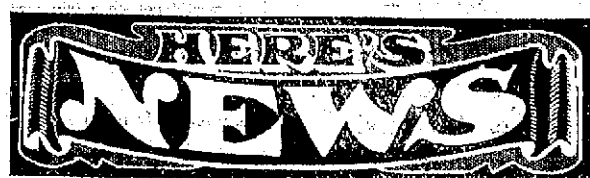

Returns from 2324 precincts out of a total of 5197 in Ohio gave the initiative and referendum 149,570 to 84,100 against, and home rule 148,681 to 129,000 against.

The first state convention of the Progressive party in Ohio will convene this afternoon. Gov. Hiram Johnson of California will address the convention.

Arthur L. Garfield of Ohio, who was defeated for the gubernatorial nomination at the Republican state convention, seems to be the popular choice for the Progressive nomination for Governor. John L. Sullivan of East Liverpool, the Republican nominee for secretary of state, seems to be the delegates' choice for the Progressive nomination for the same office.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 5, 1912.

The Philadelphia Ledger says we have a suspicion that Dr. Harvey W. Wiley is slated for the job of chief chemist of the Ananias club.

The Chicago Tribune remarks verily, with all its faults, this seemeth to be a wonderful summer. Where does all the fruit come from?

The St. Louis Globe Democrat says a man must have strange sensations when trying to be a presidential elector for a party he has bolted and is trying to defeat.

The Pittsburgh Gazette-Times says the Colonel doesn't pretend to have discovered "perpetual motion"; he claims to be the article itself.

The New York Tribune says this is Vermont's day to hold the center of the political stage. Are the Green Mountain voters going to live up to the opportunities of their quadrennial curtain raiser?

The Chicago Post says it is hard to understand the persistence with which the state of Delaware clings to the medical institution of the whipping post for the punishment of criminals. Every time that ancient institution is called into requisition it causes a real shock to the conscience of the rest of the country, even if it leaves Delaware unmoved.

The New York Sun says at the moment when the people of Glasgow were celebrating the completion of the first century of steam navigation in European waters the philosophers of America were watching with keenest interest the progress of the plan to substitute hot air for brains in the conduct of government.

The Philadelphia Press says Horace Walpole thought that "a careless song, with a little nonsense in it now and then, does not misbecome a monarch." Assuredly not; but a little song with careless morals in it, now and then, not only misbecomes a monarch, but what is infinitely more consequence, may soil the manners and corrupt the virtue of a people. It is unnecessary to designate certain popular ditties, most of them hatched as "hits" in vaudeville, that, unhappily, have caught the public ear within recent years. The very titles of some of them are unpleasantly and designedly suggestive; and the harm such songs may work is incalculable.

If rigid censorship were ever warrentable it is here, to protect the thoughtless young and safeguard the decency of home and street. There is no doubt about it; there has been a deplorable lapse in the moral, if not the musical quality of our popular songs, and criticism of them is neither capricious nor prudish. A generation ago the people sang and whistled the airs from the Gilbert and Sullivan operas. They were quite as catchy as any of the latter-day favorites, and not a blush resided in any line of them.

The Boston Globe remarks that the cost of food may soar to the hearts content of the dealer in such articles but the Americans who love and buy jewelry will love and buy them still. This is proven by the fact that in the fiscal year ended June 30, diamonds, pearls and other gems to the value of $38,335,239 reached this country through the port of New York.

This means that more than 4,000,000 worth of gems were imported by the people of this country, since it is estimated that 95 per cent of the total gem importations are brought in through the port of New York.

According to the figures compiled by William B. Treadwell, examiner at the appraiser's stores, the cut precious stones and pearls totaled $29,262,794, and the uncut gems, principally diamonds, reached a total value of $10,152,491.

Of course jewels represent no waste of money, they are money in a sense, can always be turned into cash, and often prove to be a good investment by reason of increase in price. But they are a luxury for the great average of people can scarcely afford to keep their capital in that particular form.

The Chicago Journal says it may be interesting to figure out the average earnings of college men and see how they compare with the earnings of those who have not had a college education. But are educators willing to rest their argument on this dollar basis?

One hopes not. It is the task of the technical school to fit one for doing work which will or should yield him an increased income. It is the task of the college of the liberal arts to fit one, not for making money, but for life. The art of life, of service, of enjoyments which require no sacrifice from others this is surely as well worth teaching as the art of earning opportunity or necessity into gold. It would not be a bad idea to keep one element of modern life free from the dollar mark.

The Chicago Journal says it is not only the mechanical record which is being smashed in these days. The record of human agility or endurance in this line or in that is going down likewise.

A little while ago some British experimenters discovered that by a few simple precautions men could descend more than twice as deep in the sea as heretofore thought possible. In other words men can sustain more than double the air pressure which was formerly thought to be fatal.

Before the reading public had time to digest the importance of this addition to human powers came the series of record breaking athletic feats at the Olympic games. Followed the breaking of speed records on a typewriter—a humble but very important thing.

It is the judgement of musicians that a hundred violinists today are masters of the technique which made Paganini seem a wizard and that thousands have acquired a skill on the piano which was once deemed the property of a few rare masters.

This has nothing to do with the deeper facts of musicanship; but it does mark new possibilities in human skill.

Of course there is a limit to this development, but no one has as yet found it. The human body, the nervous system included, is a much more adaptable thing than was believed a century ago. Whether we are wise to try it so sternly is another question.

Bird's Eye Views.

It would seem cheaper in some instances to believe the worst and avoid the heavy expense of an investigation.

The various proverbs concerning the terrors of war make no impression on the Central American population.

After all, a $3,000,000 baby starts in life with little more than the making of a respectable campaign fund.

Progressive politics is an interesting game in which the element of chance figures strongly.

It seems to be the general opinion that the only sure way to reduce the price of meat is to eat any.

Strikes are no lus compo nas they used to be. Is not this pretty conclusive evidence of better labor conditions?

The best way to gain real ability is to do every piece of work that falls to your lot thoroughly. Master every detail once and for all.

Minnesota estimates that her agricultural products will be worth $50,000,000 more this year than last. This is an enormous increase for one year.

Having had the services of a highly efficient engineer, what the Panama canal now needs is a first class business manager.

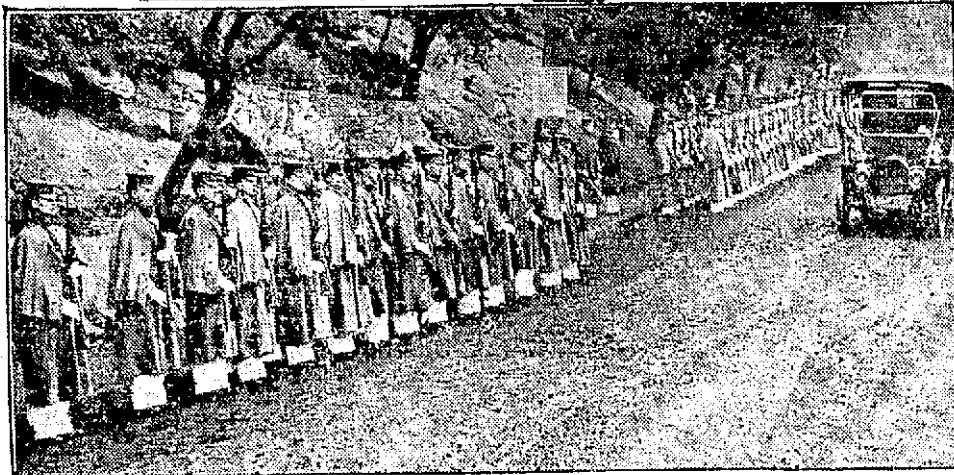

Congress was disposed to follow the example of the Baltimore convention and prolong the suspense as much as possible.

The price of meat and the thermometer has made the more creditable showing.

The house has finally approved the compromise on naval affairs and the appropriation bill providing for one battleship. If we are to have but one it will be wise to get that one ready for service as soon as possible. With the opening of the canal we might want to have a naval parade.

England and the Canal Issue.

There is something rather mysterious about the "official announcement" made in London last night to the effect that the British government would make a formal demand upon the United States for arbitration of disputes the issues be strictly between two parties, leaving a wide field of possible arbitrators without any concern in the decision. In the canal violates the Hay-Pauncefote treaty. For immediately comes a complete disavowal in terms which indicate that the British government has not decided upon its course of action and formally declares that any announcement of the kind is premature. Although no serious embarrassment to the United States is involved in a faith as sincere advocate of the despicable demand for the submission of issues of the question to arbitration, it is gratifying to find that England is not disposed to precipitate the issue by insisting on a reference to The Hague. The possibilities of the matter have been thoroughly discussed in the course of the debate on the canal bill in Congress, and the grounds of American objection to a submission of this question to international arbitration are well defined. It is known, for example, that this country may with entire propriety and unanswerable force take the position that it cannot with justice to its own interests and welfare submit an issue of this character to a court composed of representatives of nations that are of necessity parties of interest in this question. In practically all international disputes the issues be strictly between two parties, leaving a wide field of possible arbitrators without any concern in the decision. In the canal violates the Hay-Pauncefote treaty. For immediately comes a complete disavowal in terms which indicate that the British government has not decided upon its course of action and formally declares that any announcement of the kind is premature. Although no serious embarrassment to the United States is involved in a faith as sincere advocate of the despicable demand for the submission of issues ment points out three separate and distinct lines of action which are open to the British government in dealing with the problem raised by the passage of the canal bill, and it may be that the discovery of two modes of procedure which in point of possible effectiveness precedes an appeal to the Hague has influenced the authorities in London in denying the "preliminary announcement" of a decision to bring the matter now before the international court—Washington Star

Roosevelt and the Tariff

Said Mr. Roosevelt at Hartford yesterday: "This talk of the tariff is simply a red herring across a trail to distract the attention of the people from the real needs of the situation." Very like Mr. Roosevelt.

He does not like the subject and there is a reason, more than any other man he is responsible for the present tariff embarrassments. Had he kept his promise when he became president tariff revision would have been effected at the session of congress which began in December 1901 at a time when the inequalities of the Dingley law could have been easily handled.

Mr. McKinley had the thing mind, and in what proved to be his last had selected the line to be taken. Mr. Roosevelt's duty and path were plain.

Congress was republican in both branches, and republican sentiment was still strong for protection. He had only to make his recommendations in his first message to congress calling attention Mr. McKinley had done at Buffalo, to the difference between the conditions of 1897, when the Dingley law was enacted, and the existing conditions. Revision would have followed. But Mr. Roosevelt broke his promise, a trick of his, and addressed himself to other subjects.

He let the tariff go hang, as a result the inequalities of the Dingley law, which had grown out of the law's extraordinary success, increased in extent and in numbers, until nine years later they were forced upon the party for action, the action taken proved unsatisfactory to the country and a democratic house was the expression of the country's feelings. Mr. Clark owes his place as speaker indirectly to Mr. Roosevelt.

Naturally therefore Mr. Roosevelt does not want to hear so much, if anything about the tariff, and is himself drawing a red herring across the trail. The odor he is distributing is that of mingled autocracy and socialism. He wants everything put into commission, with headquarters in Washington and himself in charge of headquarters. A commission for the trusts. Another for the insurance companies. Another for the tariff. Commissions galore all under Mr. Roosevelt's direct-

STATE GOLF CHAMPIONS THIS WEEK

The New Hampshire golf championship will be played on Friday and Saturday at the Abenaki golf club at Rye Beach and one of the largest entries for years is expected. From this city there will be ten or fifteen players and the Country club will enter at least three teams for the Crafts trophy. This has been won two years by the Country club and this year the Abenaki at Rye Beach will make a try for it.

There will be two days' play. The qualifying round will be played on Friday forenoon and the first eight low scores will qualify for the state championship and the Rollins cup, the second eight for the Presidents cup and the third eight for the Rye cup. Match play will be Friday afternoon, and Saturday morning, and the finals will be played on Saturday afternoon.

Saturday there will be a handicap tournament open to those entered in the state championship and members of the Abenaki golf club.

The present indications are that the championship this year will go to Jesse P. Gullford of Manchester, who last week won the Farragut cup at Rye Beach. It lays between him and C. W. Bous of this city, although the present state champion, George A. Place, of Concord, is on his game and playing good golf.

WANT THE GAMES PLAYED

Fans Would like the All Stars of Portsmouth and Concord to Come Together.

Though the weather of Labor Day prevented the games between the All stars of this city and Concord the interest in the games between these two clubs has not died out.

The fans here want to see the games pulled off and hope that the management of the two teams can arrange to have them meet on a Saturday during this month with one game in Concord and the other in this city. Of course the finances are what figures in such an arrangement and what the managers are most likely considering at the present time. The games properly advertised would undoubtedly draw a large crowd.

TEMPLE TO RHODES

Empire Builder's Memorial
Erected on Lion Preserve.

Table Mountain in South Africa is where the structure is built—Beautiful View is Obtained From Spot—Made Road.

London.—The memorial erected to Cecil Rhodes on the slopes of Table Mountain in both magnificent and fitting.

The site was always a favorite one with Rhodes, who believed that the view from the eastern spur of the mountain excelled any other prospect in the world for beauty. He made a broad road to it and placed a seat there. From it a very fine view is obtained of Table Bay in the Atlantic to the north and of False Bay in the Indian Ocean to the south, as well as the Cape Flats and the distant mountain ranges stretching for a hundred miles to the east and north.

Not far from this seat it was his intention at one time to build a great temple, as he called it, the object of which was twofold. He intended to make a huge enclosure for his lions, that they might be housed with the greatest possible freedom and amid natural and beautiful surroundings. The idea in his mind was that the lions, enjoying a large range of liberty and magnificently housed, would attract people to the mountainside, where art and nature together at their best might lift them out of themselves and inspire them with lofty thoughts.

Remembering that such had been Rhodes' imaginings on the mountain side, the memorial committee decided that the best form for the monument would be a temple dedicated to himself.

The monument has been built of the granite which forms the natural base of Table Mountain and has been worked to a texture which is not so fine as to be out of scale or harmony with its mountainous surroundings.

In front of the monument is the statue "Physical Energy," by F. Watte, R. A., representing a man reclining in his horse after some great deed and scanning the future for his next achievement. It was not designed by Cecil Rhodes Memorial.

Watts especially for Rhodes or his monument, but was presented as a gift to South Africa out of admiration for the genius of Cecil Rhodes.

Suggestions were made to place it elsewhere. But it was Rhodes' dream to make the Cape Peninsula the center of art and beauty in South Africa. It seemed natural, therefore, that this gift of the greatest of English artists should be placed in Rhodes' monument on Table Mountain.

The eight lions, four on either side of the long flight of steps leading up to the portico, are the work of the late J. M. Swan, R. A.

Suffragettes Have Plan to Boom Suffrage in 400 Automobiles in New Jersey.

Newark, N. J.—An automobile parade over a route 120 miles long is to be held in northern New Jersey under the auspices of the advocates of woman's suffrage. It is expected that 400 machines will be in line. The parade will start early in the morning at New Brunswick and disband after sundown in Jersey City. It will pass through Plainfield, Edison, Newark, Hackensack, Jersey City, Bayonne and other cities. At each town there will be brief open air meetings with addresses by women leaders.

DAM BUILDERS USE BEAVERS

New Mexico Company Hopes to Get a Reservoir Without Cost to Them.

Santa Fe, N. M.—The revival of a custom followed by many pioneer ranchmen in the west, that of employing beavers in the building of dams, is announced by the Santa Fe Light and Water company.

The first pair of beavers, obtained by State Game Warden Thomas P. Gable will soon be put to work on the Santa Fe dam.

It is expected that the beavers will build a series of small dams along the stream so that water may be conserved during the rainy season.

TO CUT NOTED TREES

Sycamores Planted by Hamilton Must Be Removed.

At This Place the Great Federalists' Second Met to Make Plans for His Fatal Duel With Aaron Burr.

New York.—The announcement that the three tall sycamore trees which stand in a vacant lot at West One Hundred and Fortieth street and Hamilton place, Manhattan, were about to be cut down to make room for a public school, which is to be erected on the lot, has aroused much interest among New Yorkers, especially those who are familiar with the historic associations which these trees of the forest recall.

It is stated on good authority that it was under these trees that the second for Alexander Hamilton met before the fatal duel which resulted in the death of Hamilton on July 12, 1804. Whether they are the actual trees under which the second met before the fatal encounter occurred, they have a historic value from the fact that they are on territory which was intimately associated with the great statesman, lawyer and soldier.

An interesting fact connected with the house when it stood on the other side of the street is that Hamilton planted 13 trees around this house, which were intended to represent the 13 original states of the American Union. These trees were of the sweet gum variety and were brought by Hamilton, when they were nothing more than whips, from Mount Vernon, the estate of President Washington. These trees lived until long after the house was moved, and some of them were alive when, in November, 1811, the lots where they stood were taken as the site for a row of apartment houses.

The ground along Convent avenue had been restricted for 25 years. When these restrictions expired the trees planted by Hamilton himself quickly disappeared. The removal of these trees rendered those at One Hundred and Fortieth street and Hamilton place all the more precious in the eyes of antiquarians and patriotic citizens, who treasure every reminder of Hamilton.

The ground slopes sharply from the point where the old trees are standing to the shores of the Hudson. The rear porch of Hamilton's house must have commanded a beautiful view of the Weehawken shore, much wider in appearance than now. It was early in July that the challenge from Burr was received, and it was the morning of the 12th of that month that the arrangements were completed and Hamilton and his seconds took a barge and were rowed across the Hudson to the fatal battleground.

BOYS FIND WHITE QUAIL

Birds Supposed to Be Extinct Still Live in Colorado, According to Photograph.

Grand Junction, Colo.—Boy scientists, whose love for outdoor life and wild animals has been cultivated by the Y. M. C. A. in a special course of study during the past few months, have discovered a lost species of quail through their remarkable work with kodaks.

In an excursion to the Pinon mesa, two of the boys last March accomplished a wonderful feat in photography, when they succeeded in taking the picture of two snow white birds. They developed the picture and sent it to an eastern museum, where the birds were identified as members of a species of mountain quail which had long been thought extinct. The birds change to brown in the summer.

The young naturalists are continuing their work with the kodak, and have organized a society to discourage the use of firearms among boys and young men.

POLICE PICK WRONG NAGS

Only Two of Gotham Gambling Squad Won With City Money While Seeking Evidence.

New York.—Not all policemen lose their bets every time they put down money in an effort to get evidence against a gambling house. Comptroller Prendergast had about concluded from the police expense vouchers that the investigators had a habit of always backing the wrong horse, but his assistants in going through the latest collection of vouchers found two detectives who had actually picked winners.

The two men were Detectives Hickson and Dongalo. The amount they won was $12, which was small compared with the losses shown on the vouchers of their colleagues.

The officials of the comptroller's office were so surprised to find a policeman who could pick a winner that they will submit the vouchers to the mayor with a recommendation for the promotion of Hickson and Dongalo.

Army to Fight Grasshoppers.
Sofia, Bulgaria.—Three infantry regiments have been called out to combat an invasion of grasshoppers which is devastating immense tracts of farming land along the Danube. With the assistance of the peasant soldiers are building huge bonfires, and thus they have succeeded in clearing several districts from the pest.

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—To rescue 14 families hemmed in by flames, Brooklyn policemen early today formed a human ladder, upon which one of their number climbed to a window. The fire was in a tenement house and the exits were all cut off before the residents were aroused.

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—Gen. Juan J. Estrada, former president of Nicaragua, has quietly left his hotel in Brooklyn and is believed to have started for Nicaragua to aid President Diaz in quelling the revolution. He was accompanied by Gen. J. M. Noguera, formerly minister of the interior of Nicaragua. They left the hotel without announcing their destination.

LAWRENCE, Sept. 4.—James J. Stanley, former superintendent of the Lawrence City Home and a very prominent man in political circles, was ordered held for the grand jury in $1500 bail by Judge J. J. Mahoney in the police court today. He is charged in five complaints with the larceny of about $100 worth of furnishings and money from the home.

TARRYTOWN, N. Y., Sept. 4.—It was said today that the detectives guarding the estates of John D. Rockefeller and hunting Black Handers, who have been threatening the oil king, had found at least three of the gathering places of the alleged blackmailers. The guard, however, was doubled, and the Great Danes, usually in leash, rained the estate at will.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—American bluejackets from the cruiser Glacier, under Ensign Robert G. Conner, have recaptured from the Nicaraguan revolutionists a small steamer the rebels had seized near Corinto and taken to the bay of Fonseca to transport insurgent troops. Admiral Southard's cable reporting the capture does not state the time nor say if there was a fight.

REVERE WOMEN INJURED.

Mrs. Hannah Harrison and Daughter Thrown From an Automobile in Manchester, N. H.

MANCHESTER, N. H., Sept. 4.—Mrs. Hannah Harrison and her daughter, Miss Mary Harrison, of Revere, Mass., were seriously injured just before noon today in this city when an automobile, in which they were riding, was struck by an electric car at the corner of Union and Spruce streets.

The auto was going south, in charge of the chauffeur, George Dow, who states that because of the close proximity of the buildings to the junction of the streets he did not see the approaching trolley car and neither did he hear its warning bell.

The conductor, Edward Kelley, and the motorman, William Allen, state that the car had slowed down as it approached the intersection of the streets, when the automobile dashed directly in front of the car. The auto was struck just forward of the rear seat, in which Mrs. Harrison and her daughter were seated.

The force of the impact was such that the seat was torn from the automobile and smashed, its side broken in and the running board and fender splintered.

The women were thrown some distance, and Mrs. Harrison, in addition to the shock of the accident, received cuts and bruises to her head and face as well as to her arms and body.

Miss Harrison sustained a broken wrist and numerous contusions. It is not known if there are internal injuries.

The injured women were hurried to a hospital, where they are receiving attention.
